RESEARCH AWARD -- Navy Lieutenant Commander Joseph M. Browne (left) accepts the J. William Middendorf II Award certificate from Secretary of the Navy Middendorf as co-recipient Lt. Cmdr. John T. Hood (center) looks on during a brief ceremony held at the Naval War College this afternoon. The annual student research award was made to both Naval officers for their research paper on the Standard Missile-2. Their work was selected over 17 other students involved in eight projects considered for the award. Both officers are students in the mid-career, resident College of Naval Command and Staff.
