

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20350

IN REPLY REFER TO

Op-09D/egg
10 October 1969

Dear Fred,

Attached notes contain thoughts in reference to two of the speeches planned in your symposium.

Excuse this rough input--is late Friday and I want to get it to you soonest.

Very respectfully,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Lindsay", is written over a horizontal line.

LINDSAY C. McCARTY
Captain, U. S. Navy
Director, Special Studies and
Presentations Group (Op-09D)
Room 5D558, Pentagon

Captain Frederick Ulbricht, U. S. Navy
Head, Naval Command Course
Naval War College
Newport, Rhode Island 02840

The Role of Naval Forces -

Preface remarks with brief discussion of the general relevance of all forms of military power in preserving order and effecting change in the international system.

Voices are increasingly questioning the role of force as a productive tool in the current world due to:

- 1) Nature of weapons
- 2) Revolutionary character of forces for change
- 3) Imbalance in states of development of nations
- 4) Mobility of populations
- 5) Growing limits to sovereignty